Goodman, MS 39079

Building . . .

The new school year was a building experience for the college. For the first time in its history, HJC was expanding to locations other than Goodman with not just one but two new campuses. A new campus in Ridgeland had its ground breaking in November, and the site for the Grenada campus was leveled in September.

Campuses weren't the only things being built. Spirit and enthusiasm were also in the building program this year. David Irby as "Bully" and April Philpot as "Ms. Bully" (both pictured) were instrumental in that phase. Their spirit and enthusiasm at pep rallies and ball games grew and grew with each event and spilled over onto the student body.

This spirit, enthusiasm, and new campuses were just the beginning of a great building year for Holmes.

Sherry Saxton and Donald Evers build their new experience on a campus bench.

The Fall Frenzy

On August 21, the streets and buildings on campus waited strangely empty. The next day, as if on cue, the college erupted with activity as students poured onto campus, transforming the summer serenity into a fall frenzy.

Amidst the hoopla of get-acquainted activities, hassles of moving into dorms, meeting with advisers and counselors, registering and buying textbooks, students were settling down for another year, a new experience at Holmes.

With the worsening economy as a backdrop, the semester started to unfold. Budget cuts and unemployment faced everyone on a daily basis, but students were determined to leave the depressing details in the newspaper headlines and evening news.

Together, they cheered at football games, played pool, cheered the video machine addicts on, and went to dances, all in an effort to build a new experience.

Individually, they crammed for exams, tackled term papers and snoozed during lectures.

And through it all, students went without the frills of home and senior colleges, pared life down to the bare essentials (stereo, telephone, refrigerators, etc.) and came up with sheer tolerance and endurance. All of this made for a new experience, even for the sophomores.

Michelle Coleman and Tim Ellison have different reactions to Sam Brown's class. One wants to cry, the other wakes up in time to go to the next class. A new experience for both.

Robby Waldrup's expression says a lot for his not-so new band trip experience

Building . . . a new experience

Joy Malone, Robbie Ware, and Keith Holland build a new sign for a new club (or rather an old club with a new name), Collegiate Service Club. Judging by the amount of paint on them, painting must have been a new experience.

Deborah White tries to make up her mind about classes during scheduling. Looks like she took a long time.

Building . . . a celebration

The many dances on campus brought most of the students out for a celebration. This group danced to the music of a former student — Hunter Yerger — at a Collegiate dance

Cathy Guest has a strange way of exhibiting her zest for a celebration. This act was part of her routine in a tumbling class.

Just give any five guys a pretty, sunny, summer afternoon and a good swimming hole and they will celebrate. At this celebration was Lex Webb, Jerry Gilliland, Phil Reeves, Kent Herbert, and their friend.

Terry Godfrey celebrates life with a good pitch in an intramural softball game.

. . . all or nothing . . .

Something was always happening.

No matter where you looked on campus, students were living in the fast lane.

Whether cramming for a major exam, partying away the college blues, or cheering for the Bulldogs and Lady 'Dogs, the life-lovers at Holmes proved no activity, event, or function was done half-heartedly.

This "all or nothing" attitude was evident at Holme-Towne Players' performances, football and basketball games, homecoming dances, gatherings at the lagoon and state park, nightclubs in Jackson, efforts by students to get some rules and policies changed, and support of fellow students on behalf of one they thought had been disciplined unfairly. Students overcame the odds and distractions and tackled the daily grind of academic life.

With a little hard work and determination, it all came together and, what could have been just an ordinary year, was turned into a campus life celebration.

David McBride, April Philpot, and Greg Tucker made lab a real life celebration.

The 5:00 line was always in front of the cafeteria.
Michael Steidle captured this scene.

registration to eating,
always a line hassle

Administrators and faculty even get into line-forming. Forming this line are Henry B. McClellan, Gene Richardson, Cecil Chambliss, and Danny Williams.

Building . . . lines

This registration group included young, older, and everything in between.

Have you ever needed to get something done in a hurry, only to find you had to stand in line first. Building a line starts in the summer with preregistration and continues and continues.

To aid the students in speedy paper work, the administration began years ago having summer registration. So what happens? You stand in line in the summer rather than in the fall.

Some students who never show up in the fall, must come in the summer just to stand in line. Parents bring their children and children bring their parents to stand in lines.

There's a line for ID's, for yearbook pictures, athletic program pictures, transcripts, and scheduling. Sometimes there is even a line for just clowning around.

After the line-forming in the summer, then comes the fall line-forming. There are lines at the bookstore, financial aid office, business office, and dean's office for schedule changes.

The best line of all — cafeteria. Students have complained for decades about college cafeteria food. But — you can still find a line formed at the door before 5:00 p.m. each day. Once inside, another line.

There are lines for snacks at the can and concession area at football and basketball games; lines for entrance to ball games; lines to enter dances; lines for beauty review interviews; lines to see a play or choir concert.

"This is a hassle" can be heard rumbled from end to end. Many have ingenious schemes to outsmart the line system and to change the order of things to prevent lines.

Lines, like the food, can never please everybody. Every college campus has them, and always will.

With the building of maturity and patience, comes tolerance. The HJC students made the best of line building. They acted a little crazy at times to compensate for line boredom, but that was expected.

Building . . . a skill

Ann Williams and Lisa Jewel (right) practice the skill of manicuring in preparation for a job in the Cosmetology field.

Thomas Sanders, Eddie Perry, and Oliver Gordon (below) get into the heart of the trouble on this car in Rigby's Auto Mechanics class.

Orlando Deering, Mark Moore, Marsell Adams, and Eddie Perry polished their skills in Jimmy Rigby's Auto Mechanics class.

Lyndell Wilson, Auto Body Repair student, learns there is a skill to putting tape on a car.

Building a Homecoming

When the leaves begin to turn brilliant golds, oranges, scarlets, and chartreuses, the homecoming committees begin to make plans for the annual reunion affair. 1983 was no exception. Homecoming caused a stir among students and alumni, as it does year after year. The excitement builds, even in the planning stage.

Plans were laid and the building processes began to take place. Elections were to be held, signs to be made, displays to put out, festivities to participate in, dances to attend, and rehearsals of all kinds — walking, music, singing, football, etc.

The weather was beautiful with temperatures in the 70s and 80s until the weekend of October 22. But a little rain did not dampen the spirits of the committees. Everything was just moved inside the cafeteria and carried on as planned.

The students elected Beth McClellan Homecoming queen. She was crowned and robed during the halftime activities. Beth was a sophomore from Goodman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. McClellan, Jr. Beth was a cheerleader and beauty her freshman year, and week after homecoming was chosen as a beauty a second time.

Celebration

Runner-up to the queen was Student Body Maid Katrina Boyette, a sophomore from Durant. She was a Lady Bulldog for two years, and also selected as a beauty her sophomore year. Sophomores elected Rose Marie Washington and Denise Hogue as their maids. Rose was from Pickens and Denise from Yazoo City. Freshmen maids were Jennifer Kimble from Goodman and Anita Herrod from Winona.

Escorts for the queen and maids included Jeff Jones of Carthage, SGA president, escorting the queen, along with her father; Larry White, sophomore from Durant for the Student Body Maid; Charles Partlow of Lexington and David Burkhead of Carrollton, sophomore maid escorts, and Jon Davis of Goodman and Kermit Smith of Grenada for the freshmen maids.

Joe McLellan, president of the Alumni Association; W. A. Miles, vice-president; and Reid Thorne, HJC president, crowned, robed and presented flowers to the queen at the ball game.

On "Jeans and Jersey" Day, Dick Sechler gave new meaning to the theme. He brought a live jersey (cow) to the campus. Chris Lampkin and Will Frizell couldn't resist touching.

The SGA had its first dance in the Coliseum for Homecoming, thanks to Jeff Jones and his courage to even ask.

Part of the entertainment for Homecoming included a performance by the Jazz Band. Members of the group pictured are Jeff Powell, Michael Goodson, Randal Lovorn, Lex Webb, Gregg Guion, Russ Hayman, Robby Waldrup, Vicki Lewis, Michael Stiedle, Melvin Norman, Gregg Wallace, Ray Parham, Lane Toney, Marce Dolloff, Mark Guion, Steve Walker, and Greg Tucker.

Miss T was presented one of the Distinguished Service Awards by the Alumni Association and Joe McLellan, president.

Patricia Lewis pulled out her Bud painter's hat and her one-eyed shades on "Hat and Spades Day."

Fan-Owl Punk Day was weird and these students knew just what to do. These punks are Paula Jackson, Kathi Oetken, Jennifer Kimble, April Philpot, Gayle Fulce, David Irby, Deborah White, and Rose Washington.

Beauty Review

On a beautiful Halloween night, 33 lovely girls vied for the title of HJC's most beautiful. After rehearsal on Sunday night, interviews on Monday afternoon, and stage appearances in casual wear and evening gown, a panel of judges chose nine girls to be featured in this yearbook — eight beauties and one most beautiful.

Robbie Ware, an 18 year old freshman from Lexington, was chosen as the most beautiful girl on the campus for the 1984 year. She was her high school's homecoming queen and Miss Central Holmes Academy.

Six sophomores and two freshmen made up the eight beauties. Two of the sophomores, Beth McClellan and Kathi Oetken, were beauties last year.

The eight included Pam Keen, a 19 year old sophomore from Durant. Pam was active in high school and on this campus.

Kathi Oetken was a 20 year old sophomore from Pensacola, Fla. She was a cheerleader for three semesters, as well as a beauty.

Katrina Boyette, sophomore, was 19 years old and a member of the Lady Bulldog basketball team. Katrina was in the homecoming court for two years also.

Rose Washington, 19, from Pickens, was also in the homecoming court for two years, a cheerleader, and active in Phi Theta Kappa, as well as other organizations on campus.

Jackie Ables was a 19 year old sophomore from Sallis. She was a Data Processing major and a president's scholar.

Beth McClellan, not only was a beauty for two years, was a class favorite, and the 1983 homecoming queen. The 18 year old was from Goodman.

Freshman Connie Hodges, 17, from Kosciusko, is pursuing a nursing career. She is a graduate of East Holmes Academy.

Lori Moyer, 19, from Kosciusko, was also a beauty. She plans to be an interior decorator.

Flags throughout the nation flew at half staff the last week in October in remembrance of the marines who died in Beirut on a peace keeping task.

Mary Sue Pratt, Registrar secretary. — just use your imagination for this one.

Linda Hutchison, cosmetology instructor, got into the Halloween spirit with a hair dye job — red and blue?

Issac "Pac Man" Wright is one of the many workstudy students who work on campus. He helped in the student center.

Hondurians Find Home at Holmes

There are five students from Honduras at Holmes. Most students on campus wonder where Honduras is located, why and how these students found HJC, and how they feel about going to school here.

First some facts about Honduras. It is located in the heart of Central America, is about the size of the state of Tennessee, and has a population of about four million people. The people are mostly white and speak Spanish.

About 84% of the people work in agriculture. A large percentage of the people are poor and their houses don't have electricity.

Their money is called "lempira." One dollar is two lempiras.

The five students from Honduras are Johnny Kawas, Kenny Yuja, Alberta Babun, Juan Andonie, and Oswaldo Quiroz. They all come from San Pedro Sula. They attend school for eleven years from February until November (without summer break).

Kenny says one of the many purposes of coming to study in the United States, besides getting a higher education degree, is to learn English as a second language. Another reason is that you begin a new life — you start doing things on your own, being yourself, and deciding whether to do certain things or not.

He said, "I am glad I came to the U.S. and especially to HJC because people are so nice and friendly and that makes me feel better."

Kenny has a sister who came to Holmes four years ago and a brother who came six or seven years ago. His brother has since graduated from Mississippi State University and is working in Honduras and his sister graduated from Louisiana State and is working in Baton Rouge.

He plans to transfer to the University of Alabama after May, 1984, and get a degree in computer science or industrial engineering with a minor in business.

Alberto said, "When I first came to learn English, it was the first time I had ever been away from home. I had to leave my home, parents, and everything I was use to. It meant facing a new life, full of experiences and many things to learn. Here with my friends and a lot of people I've met, I have had some real nice times and moments I'll remember for all my life."

Juan spent one year at Bradley University in Peoria, Illinois, studying industrial engineering before coming to Holmes in 1983. He said, "I found out that school in Mississippi is as competitive as any other state. Its population is the friendliest one I have ever known in the United States. I think Holmes Junior College is a great place to be."

Oswaldo, Wally as he is called by his friends on campus, said he decided to come to the U.S. because of the better schools. His first semester was spent in New York learning to speak English.

He has been here two years and "I like it." He said, "People are the nicest I have met and I don't feel too much homesick because all my friends make me feel as if I were at home. I hope one day I'll live in Mississippi." He agrees with the bumper sticker that says THERE IS NO PLACE LIKE HOLMES.

What to Do in Your Dorm Room

A big, empty room with two beds and two chairs is what the students have to turn into a "home away from home." But what they do after they "fix up" the new home is endless. Around the campus, pranks are the next step. These are some of the favorite pranks.

Mitzi Lubiani — Tape a "newspaper wall" across somebody's door

Boyd Stacy — Hide my roommate's bed in the bathroom

Carrie Owens — Fill suitemates shower cap full of shaving cream

Steve Windham — Steal towels while students are taking a shower

Denise Lewis — I like to run up and down the hall wearing only three blocks of toilet paper

Jeff Jones — In Motel Dorm, I like to flush the toilet and scald the guys in the shower

Jennifer Young — Lock people in the bathroom for three hours

Tony Atkisson — I like to go to the bathroom with a chocolate cake

??? — I like to tape Miss T's doorbell at 3:00 in the morning and see how long it takes her to get it off

John Tharp — Lean a garbage can full of water against someone's door, knock, and then run

Passing Time Away

After a long, drawn out day of classes and different activities, some of the students found other things to do besides studying. Here are some of the students' favorite pastimes.

Elizabeth Moorman: "Going out on the town in Memphis"

Jill Welch: "Sitting in my room looking at myself in the mirror"

Sandy Doty: "Riding around with Bully"

Ross Aldridge: "Watching the cheerleaders"

Shannon Oakes: "Being in Coachmen and going to the Lamar"

Kevin Cannon: "Going to the wild bridge parties"

Melanie Murphy and Tonia Williams: "Pester Mr. Sims"

Connie Wilcher: "Pester the teachers, go to the can, and sleeping"

April McBride: "Shooting pool in the can"

Katrina Boyette: "I'd rather not say"

Christy Haley: "Spending time with my friends in the dorm"

David Raper: "Bragging about my football achievements"

Big Mama Loves Working With the Young

The high spirited lady who manages the "rec hall" is Vuna Burkes Summerlin, better known as Big Mama.

Big Mama was born in Neshoba County and attended Arlington High School and Philadelphia High School. She came to Holmes County in 1938 and married her beau, James Summerlin. They had three sons — James Jr., David, and Rayford. Now they have nine grandchildren and one great grandchild.

All three of her sons attended Holmes Agricultural High School and Holmes Junior College. Two of her grandchildren — Debbie Summerlin Seymore and Irby Summerlin — have attended HJC.

Big Mama began working at Holmes in 1971. She had managed the J. T. Garland Recreational Center in Pickens before that. When the manager quit at Holmes, she was offered the job and took it.

Her hours are quite long. She works from 9 in the morning until 9:30 at night, but she is never alone because she is accompanied each day by her husband, Big Daddy, who is retired.

When asked how she felt about working with the younger generations, she said, "I love it." She has great conversations with young people and feels that there is no age barrier.

She plans to retire in May or July, 1984. "I will really miss the kids. I thoroughly enjoy working at Holmes."

Mrs. Summerlin got her name when all the grandchildren started calling Mr. Summerlin Big Daddy and started calling her Big Mama.

Members of Collegiate Service Club (formerly known as the Civitan Club) enjoyed a party at the home of Jim and Julia Williams at the beginning of the school year. This club is one of the more active clubs on campus. They are always involved in projects like funding raising, blood drives, helping the needy, working, etc. Some of their projects this past year included running the concession stand at basketball games and buying Christmas gifts for children at the Methodist Children's Home.

Students

Verna Butler (33) from West Helena, Arkansas, and Karen Diggs (44) from Wynne, Arkansas, played good defense in defeating the ladies from East Central Junior College before the Christmas break. Both girls are sophomores.

The Student Government Association got into the Christmas spirit by going caroling on the campus. The temperature was low but not as low as it eventually dropped during the Christmas break. The temperature on the last day of the year was 11 degrees lower than it had ever been in history.

Non-Traditional Students Tell How They Feel

The role of the traditional student (18-22 years old) has changed over the past few years. There are several non-traditional (older) students on this campus and David Irby, a member of the HORIZON staff, interviewed three of them to get their feelings about returning to college and specifically Holmes.

Those interviewed were Rita McNeer of Goodman, Susan Gray of Durant, and Bob Davis of Kosciusko.

Why did you come back to school and why Holmes?

Rita: "My children are older and I have more time to do some of the things I've always wanted to do. Since education was high on the list and HJC was close, I decided to take advantage of it."

Susan: "I just wanted to go back to school and HJC was close to home."

Bob: "My career ended due to an accident and I had to start a new career. I came to HJC because it was small and would be easier to evaluate my situation pertaining to re-entering college."

Did you have any hardships in family life and/or have to stop working?

Rita: "My family has been very supportive. I had already stopped working (gainful employment) so that was no problem."

Susan: "I have a husband and three children and they come before classes and homework."

Bob: "Yes, my father is disabled. I had to stop working due to Type 2 decompression sickness from a diving accident in the Gulf of Mexico."

How do you relate to younger students?

Rita: "I've always had young people in and out of my home, but coming to school with them probably presented the biggest psychological obstacle in deciding to come back to school. I somehow felt that I would have to compete with them. However, the young students are wonderful and have really made me feel a part of HJC. I thank them for that."

Susan: "Fairly well."

Bob: "I like being around young students. Because they are much smarter than a few years ago, I find that I must work harder to compete with them."

What study habits do you use and did you have to change them?

Rita: "I didn't have any problems studying — I did have to learn to manage my time so that I could have time for school and time for home with my family."

Susan: "I pay attention in class, do my assignments, and study for test."

Bob: "I study more and party less. Yes, I did have to change to longer hours."

How are you doing as an older student compared to how you did as a young student?

Rita: "If anything it is easier and more rewarding being an older student. I have more self-discipline and somehow with age, it is easier to get and keep my priorities in order. I LOVE IT!!"

Susan: "I'm enjoying school much more this time. It seems to be easier to make good grades and I don't feel like it's terrible to have to go to class."

Bob: "As a younger student I had around a 2.0 average. Now I have a 4.0 average."

Are you planning to go to another college?

Rita: "I hope to graduate in May and transfer to the University of Mississippi Medical Center."

Susan: "No, I may plan on going later."

Bob: "Yes, either the University Medical Center or the University of Texas."

Students

Charles Gullledge, a sophomore from Durant, used his bicycle to get around on campus sometimes. He had all the necessary accessories — radio, chain, lock, umbrella, book rack, mirrors, tiedowns, and a basket. What he didn't have was an air pump.

Johnny James, a freshman from Richwood High School in Monroe, Louisiana, was a valuable asset to the men's basketball team.

Students

Walter Smith was a manager for the football team for two years, coming to Holmes when Coach Johnny Fulce did. Walter was a sophomore from Sturgis. He and Ken Chandler from Weir, Lander Hemphill from Carrollton, and Johnny McKinnon from Sturgis did a lot of the work to keep things running smoothly for the coaches and football team.

Oradell Edwards (14), a sophomore from Carrollton, was the Lady Bulldog's leading scorer last year and she had better than 28 points per game during the first semester this year. With this average, she was third in the state in the junior college women's league.

Gregg Guion, a third year student and president of Delta Psi Omega, had one of the lead roles in Blithe Spirit, Holme-Towne Players' fall production.

Jeff Jones and Lynn Scribner counted the votes in the fall elections.

There was lots of rain this past fall and some of the students wanted to make sure they had an umbrella.

Bully

Right: Sophomore fullback Charles Beamon carried the ball on this play to gain valuable yards. Beamon played high school football at Velma Jackson High School in Camden. Below: Freshman quarterback Tommy Wasden from Selma, Ala., kept the ball on this play in the Itawamba game. Sophomore tightend Dwane Thomas from Durant was positioned for a block.

A regular scene before each game, whether at home or away, is the team running through a sign the cheerleaders made and stretched between the goal posts. Mr. Jim Williams captured the team immediately following that scene in one of the games.

Below: The defense stopped this opponent. In on the play were Donald Dotson (38), Ernest Thomas (49), Robert Gates (30), Frederick Ashford (19), Mac McClellan (72), and Jerome Morgan (99).

Left: Sophomore
linebacker Jerome
Morgan (99) stopped this opponent with a little help from Willie Earl Brooks (2), and Donald Dotson (36). Brooks was from Carnation and Dotson from Weir.

Defensive tackle Jerry McAulry (62) and Mike Arkinson (64) halted this play. Bernard Sheppard (49) is shown in the background. McAulry was from Emmet, MI.
Arkinson from Benton, and Sheppard from Ysabel City.

Below: When the team reports to the campus in August, the temperature is high and the humidity is even higher. They were taking a much needed break when this picture was taken.

Above: Morgan Scribner (82) tried but missed this pass in the Northwest game. Scribner, a tight end, was a freshman from Ackerman.

The Lady Bulldogs finished the season with a 17-11 record. They were number four after regular division play and played Northeast in the first round of the North Tournament play. The Lady 'Dogs lost that game and ended the season for 1984.

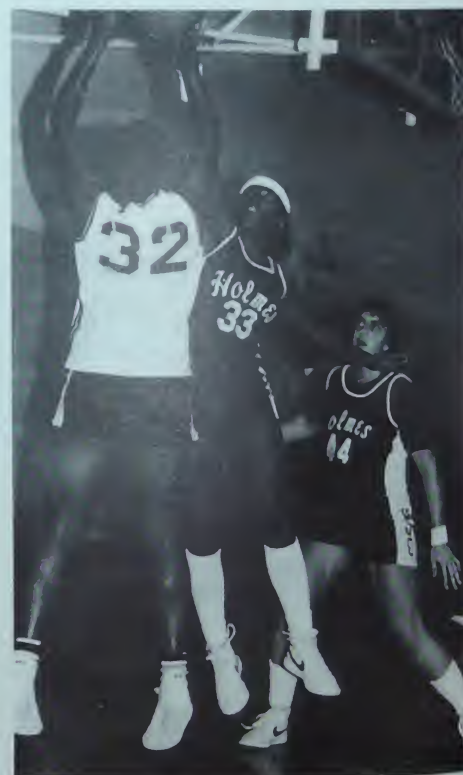

Oradell Edwards led the team in scoring all year. She finished the season with an average of 25.8 points per game. Karen Diggs finished the season with 13.3 points per game and Carol Small with 12 points per game.

Others on the team finished like this — Verna Butler, 8.7; Debbie Douglas, 6; Katrina Boyette, 4.9; Angie Aspey, 3.9; and Armie Echoles, 3.3.

They had a team average of 77 points per game while allowing only 63 points per game. The most they scored was 101 points against Southwest in Summit in the second game of the season. The least scored against them was in the last regular season game with Clarke (27 points).

Freshman Debbie Douglas from Flora earned a starting position late in the season. She scored two points here.

Carol Small (31) puts one up under the basket for two points. Debbie Douglas is no. 34.

Left: Oradell Edwards got fouled on this jumper but the goal was good for two points and she followed up with two free throws.

Roy Ellis with a jumper.

James Leahman puts up 2.

Mike Robertson shoots from the side.

Percy Holmes (42) drives to the basket in the Mississippi Delta game. Delta's number 30 can't stop him.

Before the basketball season was over, some of the football team members and their friends really got into the spirit of things. They painted their faces and jeered the opponents. With all the makeup, it was hard to identify all of them. You try.

Percy drove right past that No. 30.

Percy does it again!

Cheerleaders

Below: The cheerleaders and Bully attended camp at Memphis State. Here they show how to build a Christmas tree pyramid.

The 1983-84 cheerleaders were (Front) Jeannie Whitehead, Gayle Fulce, Kathi Oetken, Paula Jackson. Back: Ginger Fulce, Jennifer Kimble, Deborah White, and Rose Washington. This group may have set a record. They all completed the football and basketball season.

Bully and Ms. Bully (April Philpot) laugh at Mr. Jim Williams as he takes their picture at a football game.

Below: The cheerleaders help get the football players and fans fired up before and during the games and at pep rallies.

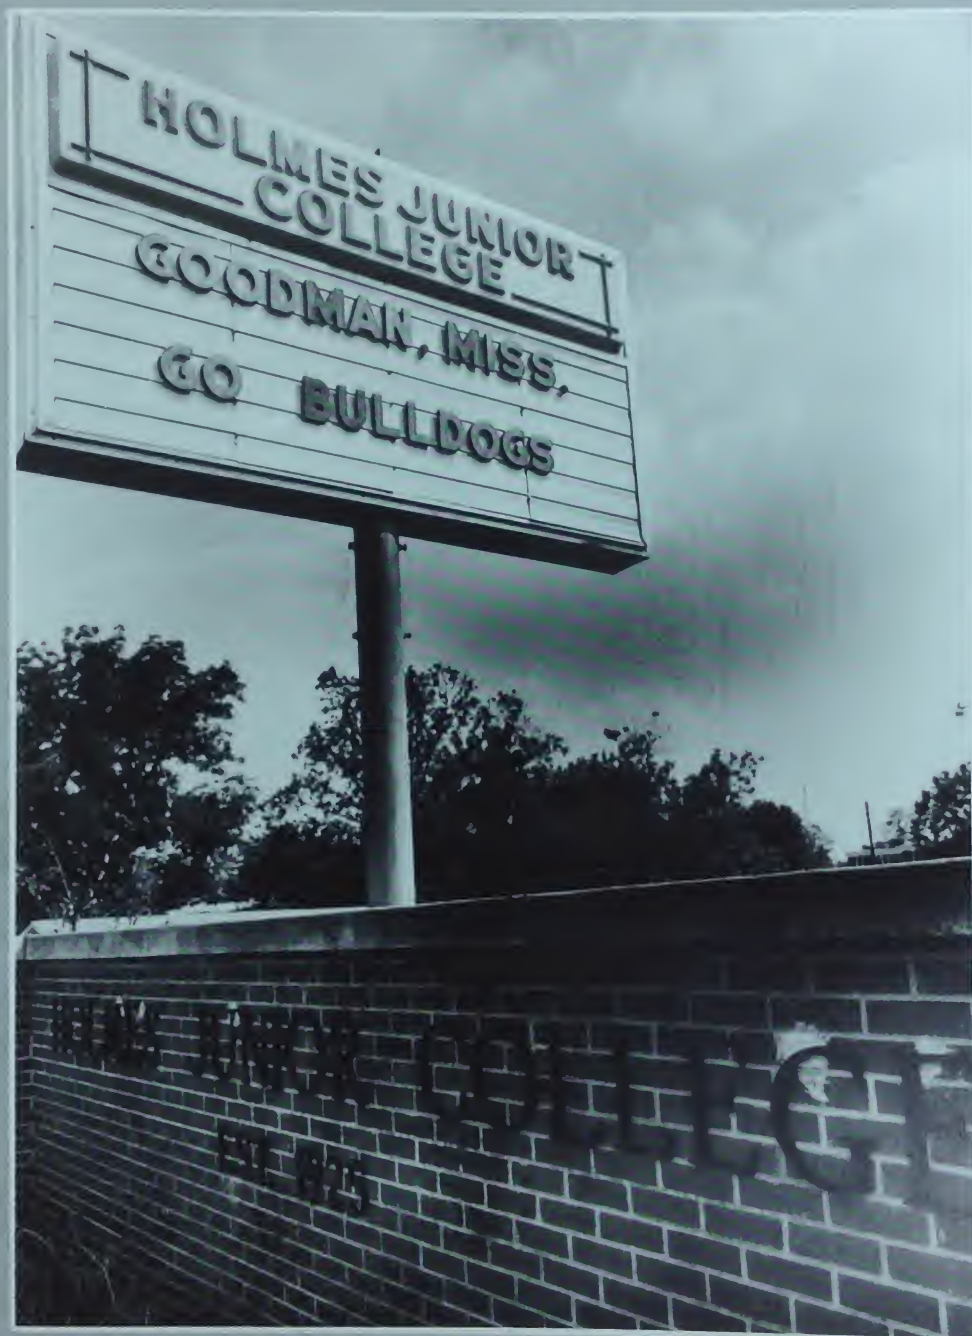

It was no trouble to get the cheerleaders to pose for pictures for the Athletic Program.

Ms. Bully added a lot to the athletic events. Here she stands by and watches the crowd as they laugh at her and with her.

STUDENT LIFE

LORRANCE CENTER

The "can" is the hub of student life on campus. Students go there to visit, study, eat, meet friends, shoot pool, play foose ball and the video machines, and even to study.

Left: The Collegiate Service Club Valentine dance was a bit hit with the students. It came at a much needed break from winter weather.

Hank Carpenter and Bubba Smith head for one of the regular hangouts — the can.

Donald Dotson, Catherine Black, and Theodore Washington, visit between classes on the steps of McDaniel.

Members of the staff have to work the clock and scorekeeper's table during basketball games. Pictured is Miss T, a friend, Charles Shaw, Johnny Fulce, and Ray Bridges.

Service Recognition

Mr. Evon Lepard will be retiring May 24, 1984, when he reaches his seventieth birthday. Mr. Lepard has been a valued employee of Holmes as a mechanic and more recently as supervisor of vehicle maintenance and repair since 1971.

He had had to keep the old buses and cars rolling for the faculty and the students to use and with the condition of some of them, it was a real job. Some people have even called him to drive miles and miles to repair a broken down vehicle.

Mr. Lepard will be sorely missed. The yearbook staff wishes him well.

Mr. Elbert "Buddy" Burrell, a security officer since 1976, will also be retiring in June.

The security force gets criticized by the students for doing their job and Buddy Burrell has done just that — his job. He could be found cruising the streets in the afternoons and late nights, keeping an eye on things.

Dedication

The 1984 HORIZONS is dedicated to Mr. Woodson Earle, Math Instructor and Assistant Academic Dean, who will be retiring at the end of this school year. He leaves Holmes after 14 dedicated years.

Before coming to Holmes in 1970, he taught and coached at Lexington High School for 19 years. Those who knew him during his coaching years still affectionately call him "Coach Earle."

Because of his sincere concern and interest, students have learned to respect and care for him. He has helped many students get in the right courses at registration.

Every spring for the last several years, Mr. Earle was found at the starting line of all campus track meets ready to fire the starting pistol.

The yearbook staff would like to honor Mr. Earle in this way for his dedicated service to Holmes Junior College.
